Winemaking

Harvest : 5 September 2019

After soft pressing, vinification consists of a cold-storage phase, followed by fermentation and, eventually, by the development of effervescence in a pressure tank for up to 30 days.

The end of this phase coincides with bottling.

Wine Description

Intense straw-yellow in colour, the aroma is rich with unique perfumes that recall the freshness of the grape from which they derive, with orange blossom and honey flavours. Sweet in taste, well balanced and extraordinarily pleasing. Fresh and with a low alcohol grade, it is preferably tasted in glasses with a generous base.
